FALL

THE IDEAL PLANTING TIME

Fall is a good time to handle all hardy plant material. Weather and soil are more favorable for successful planting than in the Spring. In the Fall you get freshly dug stock which takes hold quickly. Fall planted stock benefits from Fall rains and during Winter months when apparently dormant, becomes firmly established in the ground and is ready to start growing with the first approach of Spring, resulting in a growth of nearly one whole year in results.

All stock guaranteed. Planting directions with each order.
